Minnesota Department of Revenue moves Duluth office to Canal Park

ST. PAUL, Minn. – The Minnesota Department of Revenue is thrilled to celebrate the opening of our new office located in the heart of Canal Park in Duluth.

The department's space in the historic Paulucci Building is 5,400 square feet – larger than our old Duluth facility. The upgraded space is very customer-friendly, with better meeting space that will allow us to offer more training and education courses for tax preparers, small businesses, and other taxpayers. The lobby and reception area were designed with our customers in mind, and there's better visitor parking too.

“As public servants, our employees are dedicated to better government and we're delighted to serve Duluth and the surrounding area,” said Revenue Commissioner Myron Frans. “This new office will enhance the customer experience and we look forward to being part of the Canal Park community.”

Duluth Mayor Don Ness joined Commissioner Frans and other department employees at today's grand opening celebration.

This is one of 13 department facilities across the state. Nearly 30 department employees from our sales tax, income tax, and collection divisions work in Duluth, with the opportunity to expand even more.
