EXPLANATION OF THE BILL

Current Law: Effective June 1, 1992, sales to political subdivisions (local units of government) became subject to tax, except sales to school districts, local government hospitals and nursing homes, and certain sales to public libraries.

In the time since local government has been taxable, a number of exemptions have been enacted. The principal ones are:

- fire trucks, police squad cars, and ambulances
- repair parts for emergency rescue vehicles
- supplies and equipment used in ambulances
- fuel for fire trucks and emergency vehicles
- fire fighters' protective equipment
- construction materials for correctional facilities
- bullet-proof vests for peace officers
- landfill equipment
- a complete exemption for public libraries
- gravel and road maintenance machinery for townships

Proposed Law: The bill repeals the current sales and use tax liability under M.S. 297A.70 for political subdivisions (local governments). Remaining taxable are building materials purchased by contractors (except in the case of local government correctional facilities) and other purchases and leases of registered motor vehicles. The exemption applies to utility services but not to lodging or meals.

REVENUE ANALYSIS DETAIL

- The estimates were based on State Auditor reports for counties, cities, and towns and on US Census data for special districts. The reporting years were: counties and cities, calendar year 1998; towns, calendar year 1998; and special districts, fiscal year 1997.
- Currently taxable portions of the categories “current expenditures” (or “current operation”) and “capital outlay” were estimated and multiplied by the 6.5 percent sales tax rate.
- The base-year amounts were increased annually through 2003 by the historical and projected growth in state and local government spending according to DRI/McGraw-Hill, Inc.
- Calendar year figures were converted to fiscal year amounts. The estimate for fiscal year 2002 was adjusted to reflect an effective date of July 1, 2001 (11 months of impact).

Number of Jurisdictions Affected: 87 counties, 855 cities, 1,796 townships, and approximately 400 special districts.
