2017 Schedule M1NC Instructions

On May 30, 2019, Minnesota law was updated to recognize the Internal Revenue Code as amended through December 31, 2018. The law disallows the tax effect of the federal provisions on this schedule.

Purpose of This Schedule

Rules used in determining Minnesota individual income tax are based on the Internal Revenue Code. Federal tax law was enacted and contained provisions affecting tax year 2017. Minnesota tax law enacted on May 31, 2019 disallows the tax effect of the provisions listed on this schedule.

If you are affected by the provisions listed below, you will need to use Schedule M1NC, Federal Adjustments, to make needed adjustments when filing Form M1, Individual Income Tax.

Under current law, definitions used in determining Minnesota taxable income are based on the Internal Revenue Code (IRC), as amended through December 31, 2018 (2018 IRC). Since that date, Congress has enacted the Taxpayer Certainty and Disaster Tax Relief Act (TCDTR) and the Coronavirus, Aid, Relief and Economic Security (CARES) Act, which contains changes affecting businesses for tax year 2017. Because Minnesota has not adopted these federal changes, adjustments are required to correctly determine your Minnesota taxable income. Use the instructions on line 4 to calculate nonconformity adjustments relating to the TCDTR and CARES Act.

If you are amending your 2017 federal return solely for federal changes under the TCDTR or CARES Act, write “TCDTR” or “CARES” in red at the top of the Minnesota Form M1X.

Who Must File Schedule M1NC

You must complete Schedule M1NC if any of the following apply:

- You claimed a deduction for tuition and fees on line 34 of federal Form 1040 or line 19 of Form 1040A.
- You deducted mortgage insurance premiums on line 13 of federal Schedule A.
- You recognized deferred foreign income under Internal Revenue Code, section 965.

Other adjustments under the TCDTR of 2019

How to Report the Federal Adjustments

If any of the federal provisions that are included in the TCDTR affect the amount of taxable income reported on your 2017 federal return, you must make an adjustment to income on your 2017 Minnesota return. To determine the adjustment amount, compute your federal taxable income based on 2018 IRC. Report the difference between this amount and the amount allowed under 2019 IRC as an adjustment to income.

Subtotal all nonconformity adjustments (positive and negative) calculated from the provisions listed below. If the net of all adjustments results in an increase of your federal taxable income (FTI), enter the net adjustment as a positive number on line 4. If the net of all adjustments results in a reduction of your FTI, enter the net adjustment as a negative number on line 4.

If you received Schedule KPI or Schedule KS with code 17, include the amount from line 8b as a positive amount or the amount from line 10b as a negative amount on line 4. If you received Schedule KF with code 17, include the amount from line 8b as a positive amount or the amount from line 16b as a negative amount on line 4.

For purposes of calculating adjustments, use any federal regulation or ruling issued by the Internal Revenue Service prior to the passage of the TCDTR which governs the referenced provisions.

To report the differences for Minnesota tax purposes, you must attach to your Form M1 or Form M1X a list of the federal provisions affecting your taxable income by section number and show how you calculated each adjustment amount.

Section 2303. Allowance of Net Operating Loss Carrybacks and suspended 80% limitation

The CARES Act allowed net operating losses from tax years 2018 through 2020 to be carried back five years and up to 100% of taxable income. For Minnesota purposes, If you are carrying back a net operating loss generated in any of those years, your carryback is limited to two years and only if the loss is generated by a farming activity. All net operating losses that are not from a farm activity must be included as a positive number. If the loss is from a farm activity, you must include the amount of your federal deduction that exceeds 80% of taxable income as a positive amount number.

Net operating loss carryback from 2018

If you are carrying back a net operating loss from 2018 (and it is not a farming loss eligible to be carried back under the IRC as amended through December 31, 2018), enter the full amount of the carryback you claimed from your federal return on line 4.

If you are carrying back a net operating loss from 2018 that is a farming loss, your state NOL deduction is limited to 80% of taxable income. This may include a Minnesota modification for section 179 expensing. Include the result as a positive number.
