Form ORG-1 Instructions

Organic Oils Used as Motor Fuel

Organic oils and other unrefined products are subject to the Minnesota fuel excise tax if they are used as motor fuel in a licensed motor vehicle, or are blended with dyed or undyed diesel fuel.

Organic oils or unrefined products are products derived from plants or animals and not processed or refined through any chemical reactions. This includes, but is not limited to, any new or used organic oils, i.e. waste oil, used fryer oils, fish oils, unprocessed corn oils, soybean oils and other organic oils.

Motor fuel is defined as a liquid, regardless of its composition or properties, used to propel a motor vehicle.

Who Must Pay the Tax

Unlicensed Distributors or Retailers

If you distribute or sell organic oils or other unrefined products for use as motor fuel in licensed motor vehicles, you are responsible for paying all motor fuel excise taxes.

Complete Form ORG-1, Organic Oil Motor Fuel Tax, and submit it to the Minnesota Department of Revenue along with your payment.

Licensed distributors: If you use, sell or blend organic oils or other unrefined products for use as motor fuel in a licensed vehicle, you must report the product on Form PDA-46, Minnesota Gasoline Tax Return, and Form PDA-49, Special Fuel Tax Return.

Individuals Using Organic Oils or Unrefined Products as Motor Fuel or for Personal Use

If you use organic oils or unrefined products as motor fuel in a licensed motor vehicle, you are responsible for paying the motor fuel excise tax unless you paid the tax at the time you purchased or received the product.

If you paid the tax at the time you purchased or received the product, you must keep your receipt for at least 3½ years as proof that the tax was paid.

If you did not pay tax at the time you purchased or received the product, you must pay the motor fuel excise tax due to the department.

Complete Form ORG-1, Organic Oil Motor Fuel Tax Return, and submit it to the department along with your payment.
